HONGKONG, JUNE 26TH, 1875.

In the spirit of prophecy Mr. H. N. LAY, when writing to The Times on the late estecmed Admiral SHERARD OSBORN, Says :--"The vicious policy of suffering our people to become the tools, instead of the guides, of the Chinese Government will, I make bold to say, before long be made manifest to all." There can be no objection to subjects of VICTORIA accepting positions under the Chiness Government, so long as they act as pretepters and guides to the Chinese in the path of progress. But while this may be readily conceded, it is a matter of opinion how lar it is possible for Englishmen in the service of the Hoppo of Canton to faithfully carry out their instructions, and at the same time fulfil the duties imposed upon them by their nationality. The seizure of the Carisbrooks has mainly excited attention from the fact that the Revenue gunboat fired iuto and disabled her. Great indignation has been expressed because the gues we fired by an Englishman. It is certainly to be regretted that the guns of a foreign cruiser should have been levelled against a British steamer by British bands. Suppose for a moment that the shot had sunk the vessell and that, as would have been most likely. Company informs us that the S. S. Hoogly was two-thirds of the massengers had perished. What would have been the consequence? In what light would the British Government have regarded the gunner? It would be Carisbrooke, has been accepted, and the steamer hard to say. We are not now discussing is expected to be in Hongkoug harbour shortly. the merits of the case, nor do we intend to say how far the act was justified. The case has yet to be settled at Peking. But it cannot be concealed that, had such a catastrophe as that sketched above occurred, it would have given rise to most painful sensations among the British residents in China. Its possibility has engendered an opinion in the minds of many in this colony that it will not be advisable in the future for British subjects to be permitted to remain in the and that if they elect to continue under the cash: Hoppo it must be at the risk of outlawry from their native land. It cannot be denied that they are mere tools in the hands of the Hoppo, and that they are in no sense guides. No doubt they act with greater discretion than Chinese officials would do in similar circum. stauces, but the system is calculated to cause Aping with stesling a fishing net. The prosecomplications of a most annoying and in- cut read three men came in company together jurious nature, and it is therefore a most under pretence of buying something. The point whether or not Englishmen shall remain in the service of the Hoppo. Under gave the alarm and they all ran away and the other circumstances there might be no objection, but while there is a chance of the Carisbrooks case being repeated again, British blood fairly boils at the thought of Chinese guns being directed against a British steamor by British officers in the pay of a Chinese Customs farmer. Mr. LAY's

The rascal had, it appears, had a tin can so constructed that it fitted close to his body and could be carried without being perceptible. He had been in the employ of the firm for upwards of twelve months, and, as the can bore traces of having been constantly used, it is probable that he had carried on this dodge most of the time. No doubt the deficiency in quantity of milk had been made up from the water tap. He was fined $5, but it is to be feared this does employers will not of course retain him in their service. THE CHURCH PORCH. When once thy fuot enters the church, be barc. God is more there than thou; for thou art there Only by his permission. Then beware, And make thyself all reverence and fear, Kneeling ne'er spoil'd silk stocking : quit thy state. All equal are within the church's gate.

Resort to sermons, but to prayers most Praying's the end of preaching. O be drest; Stay not for the other pin : why thou hast lost A joy for it worth worlds! Thus hell doth jest Away thy blessings, and extremely flout thee, Thy clothes being fast, but thy soul loose about thee. In time of service seal up both think eyes, -And send them to thy heart; that seeing ain,

They may weep out the stains by them did rise; Those doors being shut, all by the ear comes in. Who marks in church-time others' symmetry Makes all their beauty his deformity. He that gets patience, and the blessing which Prenchers conclude with hath not lost his pains. He that by being at church escapes the ditch.

Which he might fall in by companions, goins.

He that leves God's abode, and to combine With saints on earth, shall one day with them shine Jest not at preacher's language or expression How know at thou but thy sins made him miscarry Then turn thy faults and his into confession : " God sent him whatsee'er he has : O tarry. It is remarkable that neither he nor Lord Granville could write a common letter well. Of his imagination he used to say himself that it was so strong that most things returned: to him with stronger force the second time than the first. He was so attentive to forming his own taste, that he would not look at a bad print if he could avoid it, wishing not to hazard his eve for a moment.
